

Once in a while a note to a great while you will see a notice in a democratic paper which seems to approve the policy of Mr. Cleveland.

Will the fool-killer please happen around at Warwick Neck, Rhode Island. Mr. More there is still digging for Captain Kidd's treasures.

Lord Tennyson has been engaged to write another poem on American spring. If he were here and were compelled to wait for inspiration from the weather, the poem would not be written before June.

Mr. Moody met with great success at Princeton, New Jersey, but reports do not say whether he met much success with the Princeton students. No one would hardly expect success in that direction.

Governor Rusk has appointed Mr. Henry Casson, editor of the Vernon county Center, his private secretary in place of Col. L. J. Rusk, who has resigned and will shortly remove to Chippewa Falls, to engage in the practice of law.

One would suppose that Carter Harrison had not been enough, but it seems that he doesn't think so. He has used the Inter Ocean for $600,000 damages. While $600,000 does not amount to much to a newspaper, yet Carter will not get a cent of it.

The story got abroad that Miss Frances L. Willard made a profession of having received a "divine revelation" as to woman's suffrage. Some believed it, because they thought all things were possible after she consecrated herself to St. John last fall. But she has written a note consigning the yarn about "divine revelation" to limbo.

Mr. William Andrew Jackson Sparks, commissioner of the general land office, is a brilliant man. He is doing the democratic party great service. He is serving it with a zeal that certainly commands respect. Then, again, his discoveries are quite important. For instance, the other day he found that the seventy inspectors of his bureau, who were republicans, spent about $1,000,000 a year in salaries and for traveling expenses. Bright Sparks! But he didn't remember before he made this wonderful discovery, that those seventy men couldn't spend more than $200,000 annually, for that was the appropriation including salaries at $1,600 a year! Poor Sparks! He imagined he was making a discovery, but finds he was making a fool of himself.

There has been considerable gossip of late regarding Mrs. Garfield's financial condition. Some people gave the report current that she was not able to live in a manner befitting a widow of a president, but this is a mistake. It is said on the best authority that her finances are in excellent condition. The subscription raised for her by Cyrus W. Field, amounted to $312,000, which was invested in 4 per cent government bonds. She received $50,000 of life insurance. Congress gave her $30,000 being the remainder of President Garfield's salary when he died. His estate was worth $30,000 more, which makes some $422,000, which is probably invested. Then again, congress voted her, together with the widow of President Polk, $5,000 a year as a pension, so that Mrs. Garfield's annual income is not less than $21,000.

SELLING OFFICES.

For a good many years there have been stories going about regarding office-brokers at Washington. At times during the republican administrations, there were always some one in that city who gave notice to office-seekers, especially young men and young women, that they had the "inside track" on a certain class of patronage and that their "influence" extended quite largely through the halls of congress as well as through the several departments of the administrations. It was a custom with such dead-ends to advertise that they could secure clerkships of from $900 to $1,000, or $1,200, for a fee of $100 and possibly for $500. There are always large numbers of weak-minded and foolishly ambitious persons, ready to be gulled by such tricksters; and hundreds have lost their money through these temptations, and never had the shadow of a chance to obtain an office through these methods.

It was supposed that these sham office-brokers had failed in business during the past few years, but it seems they have come to the surface again and are on the look-out for prey. These sharpers advertise that the civil service rules do not apply to offices over which they have control, and as there are hundreds in Washington hanging round anxiously waiting for an office under the new administration, and as they have no friends to help them and are oppressed with disappointment, they are ready to pay a bonus in the hope of getting an office. Of course they do not get office in that way, and the poor girls and young men who are duped in that fashion are finally driven to desperation. They have been warned time after time, but warning is without good effect.

THE SCHOOL FOR DEPENDENT CHILDREN.

The state board of supervision held a regular monthly session on Monday evening, and spent some time in discussing the question of locating the proposed state school for dependent children, for which the late legislature made provision. From the State Journal we learn that the Rev. Karl L. G. Oppen, who conducts the Northwestern Orphan's Home at Green Bay, appeared before the board for the purpose of endeavoring to induce the board to accept that property to be used for the proposed state school. The Northwestern Orphan's Home is said to be advantageously located and to comprise very good buildings, whose original cost was $25,000. These buildings are surrounded by a plot of land of only four or five acres. The law providing for the state school requires that not less than forty acres must be secured for the purposes of the school. Mr. Oppen informed the board that there was a purchasable plot of about twenty-five acres of good land adjoining the Orphan's home, which the city of Green Bay would secure and donate to the state in case that city should be favored with the state school. The Journal says that the board will be precluded from accepting this offer unless it would be able to secure ten additional acres for the sum of $3,000, as the law expressly provides that the school must have not less than forty acres of land, and not to exceed $3,000 of the $30,000 appropriated can be expended in the purchase of land.

The state wishing to secure as good a bargain as possible in locating the school, the board of supervisors has concluded to advertise for proposals from localities for furnishing locations. At the end of sixty days these proposals will be opened and in all probability a conclusion arrived at.

A SPLENDID REFORM.

There comes from over the Atlantic some dispatches which announce that a large meeting was held in London only a few days ago, for the purpose of organizing a society which shall have for its object the purchase of vast tracts of land in England for the benefit of small farmers. There was one encouraging feature connected with the movement of last week. The meeting was attended by a very large number of influential land-owners. The land reform seems to have their support, and unless some strange things happen, the movement will be successful.

It is well known that the land in England is owned by a comparatively small number of persons. That system of land-ownership has been in existence in that country from time immemorial. It has proved a bad system for the common people, as it would in this country were it adopted, because when the great mass of people have no direct interest in the soil and can't get any, they soon lose their affection for the land of their birth and as many as can go elsewhere.

The plan proposed is to buy some of these vast tracts and then parcel them out to small buyers. The land is to be divided up into ten-acre lots and sold on a time and for such a price that poor men can be induced to make investments. This is a splendid reform measure, and suppose this should be carried into Ireland, what grand results would come from it! Irishmen would then begin to feel that they had some personal interest in the land of their birth.

WAR AND BUSINESS.

There is somewhat of a disappointment among a good number of business men, and especially among speculators, that the war cloud in Europe doesn't give an inflation to prices. Stocks are even lower than they have been since January. The price of grain, though it may have advanced a little last week, is, on an average, no higher than when peace was thought to be dawned. Russia seems as default as ever, and war does seem extremely probable at times, and yet many articles are weaker than usual.

These facts are phenomenal, and probably a satisfactory explanation would be almost impossible under the varying and complicated conditions of trade.

War is usually an important factor in stimulating financial operations and prices. Should Russia and England come to a struggle with arms, such a conflict would directly affect 100,000,000 of Russian population, 30,000,000 of the United Kingdom and 200,000,000 in India, and one would naturally suppose that a war of such magnitude would have an all-powerful influence upon trade. The firm of Henry Claws & Co., of New York, whose financial opinions are entitled to much weight, and whose judgment has been recognized as a safe guide, think that war may cause derangement to the foreign commerce of a belatedly which will temporarily augment its demand for foreign products and impart a stimulus to the trade of other nations from which it draws supplies. The trade relations between Great Britain and the United States would be very directly subject to influences of this kind. We take from the United Kingdom about $200,000,000 of merchandise per annum; and we export thither $425,000,000, or the better half of our entire exportable surplus. In the event of war, we should be likely to get our imports from that source for lower prices; for depression in the home trade and the interference of hostilities with some of the foreign markets would tend to lower the prices of British manufactures, and the surplus of goods would naturally seek a market so large and so well able to buy as that of the United States. Here would be an undeniable advantage to our consumer at large; but however without some disadvantage to our manufacturers, who would have to meet the reduction in the prices of competing foreign products.

FACTS FOR TOURISTS AND EMIGRANTS.

Whether for tourist, bent on pleasure or business, or the emigrant seeking a far western home, Hostetter's stomach Bitters is the best protector against the harmful influences of climate changes or malarial; the most reliable medicine for general use; he can positively carry with him. It nullifies the effect of sudden changes of temperature, braces the system against the enfeebling influence of excessive heat, prevents injurious consequences from a change of diet or of using bad food or water, is a fine restorative of physical energy diminished by the fatigues of traveling, and tends to counteract the effects of exposure in rough weather. It is much and serviceably used by mariners and others whose mode of life and untimely labors expose them unusually. It is moreover, of great service as a preventive and curative of disorder of the stomach, liver, bowels and a general tonic.

BLACK ON PENSIONS.

WHAT IS REQUIRED AS ESSENTIAL IN EXAMINING SURGEONS.

A Number of Friends Unscrupulous—Election Supervisors' Fees—The Case of Milwaukee Lawton—National Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—In reply to an inquiry from Senator Cadwallader, Commissioner of Pensions Black addressed to gentleman a letter on the subject of the appointment of examining surgeons for the various pension boards in which he pilots out the requirements deemed essential in the selection of examining surgeons. He says: "Appointees must be men of personal honor and integrity. They must be men of tried professional ability and experience, at least five years of active professional practice, being careful and conscientious; and they must be men of diligence, men who would be unwilling to make a slight examination in any case, or subscribe to the work of others." Where the above requisites are combined, the commissioner prefers to appoint men who have been in the military service of the United States.

In conversation with Commissioner Black, a representative of the United Press was informed that he has issued orders directing the suspension of payment from the Philadelphia pension agency of 102 pensions, the original recipients of which have been dead, in some instances, since 1871, but the names have been carried on the rolls, and pensions regularly drawn by other persons since the death of the original recipients. The commissioner has also directed the suspension of payment from the Philadelphia agency of seven pensions which were granted to widows. These pensions, it is now ascertained, notwithstanding their remarriage, have continued to draw pension for several years past.

Commissioner Black has laid these matters before the attorney general, and requested him to take steps to recover from the pension agent and his bondsmen the sums so unlawfully disbursed.

LOSS BY REDUCTION OF POSTAGE.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Hazon has prepared for the postmaster general an elaborate statement showing the result of an examination into the operations for the first year of the reduction from 5 cents to 3 cents in the rate of postage on domestic letters. The estimated loss of revenue resulting from the change, at the probable rate of this change, The actual revenue for the twelve months ended Sept. 30, 1884, as now shown by the audited returns, was $12,181,808, or $7,470,530 less than the estimated revenue of $19,652,338. The actual sum received was the loss of revenue for the year on account of the reduction to 2 cents in the letter rate.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—The president has appointed the following collectors of internal revenue: Hamilton Sloop for the Sixth district of Virginia, vice William B. Craig, resigned; John Whitaker for the district of Oregon, vice J. C. Cartwright; D. T. Bradley, collector of South Carolina, vice E. M. Brayton; Cornelius Voorhis for the Fourth Missouri district, vice D. A. Stewart, resigned; John Nelson was appointed collector of customs for Oregon.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—The following postmasters were appointed by the president: Monday, Alexander McKinnon, Crockett, Minn.; Benjamin B. Smith, Chickasaw, Mo.; George H. Tracy, Wilber, Neb.

WILL LOOK INTO THEIR FEES.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—The first comptroller of the treasury has rendered an important decision respecting the discretion of chief supervisors of elections in building up their fees. It has been held heretofore that the accounting officers of the treasury had no right to revise the accounts of chief supervisors to the amount and character of work to be done. The question came before Comptroller Durbin in the case of William Mairbach, chief supervisor of New Jersey, and the decision was that the accounts should be revised, and all illegal or unnecessary items disallowed. In the case of Mr. Mairbach, over $9,000 was disallowed.

LAWTON IS A GOOD CITIZEN.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—After the question had been brought up in the senate on the last day of its special session as to the eligibility of A. R. Lawton, of Georgia, to the position of minister to Russia, to which position he had been nominated, President Cleveland submitted the matter to the attorney general for an opinion. That opinion is now made public under date of April 14, and declares Mr. Lawton eligible to any position that can be filled by any other citizen.

SPRINGER FOR THE RUSSIAN MISSION.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—It is currently reported among the Illinois people that Congressman Springer has been tendered the Russian mission. A confirmation of the report cannot be obtained from Mr. Springer or from the state department.

THIS DO SETTLE IT.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—Secretary of State Bayard, in an interview, states that Mr. A. M. Kelley, of Richmond, Va., had declined the Italian mission. Whether Mr. Kelley would be assigned to another foreign mission, Secretary Bayard refused to say.

SUITS AGAINST THE LAND GRABBERS.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 28.—General Land Commissioner Sparks has requested the district attorneys throughout the west to institute ejectment suits against all persons and corporations found violating the law by fencing in the public domain.

FIRE IN LINDELL HOTEL.

The Great St. Louis Caravansary Smoked Out—Loss, $20,000.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—At 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon fire broke out in the basement of the Lindell hotel, this city. The first intimation of its presence was the smoke which poured up from the cellar into the rotunda, whence reaching the stairways and landing, spread through the windows of the first floors of the house. Every room in the house was occupied, but all the occupants were warned and escaped, without an accident. By hard work the fire was confined to the basement, and was under control in about fifteen minutes from the sounding of the alarm. At 9 o'clock at night the guests were domiciling themselves in the rooms they had vacated a few hours before and supper was being served. No harm except in the rotunda could any evidence of a fire be found. The loss is comparatively slight, being estimated by Mr. Chasaling, the lessee, at $20,000, fully insured.

Sale of Fine Horses.

LINCOLN, Ky., April 28.—V. T. Woodard's combination sale of horses began here Tuesday with a good attendance and fair prices. Among the two lead aggregated $15,000, or $100 a head.

RESERVED SEATS AT PRENTICE & EVENSON'S

YES, SIR.
One can't expect to succeed in business or in pleasure either, for that matter, unless one feels all right in health and spirit. This is the first consideration. Now, it's a small matter when this remedy, 20-PE-SA, is recommended so highly or even guaranteed to renew one's energy and spirits by invigorating the liver and aiding digestion, by clearing the brain, opening the pores of the skin, regulating the bowels and system, to go to the drug store of PRENTICE & EVENSON opposite postoffice, and get a single bottle of 20-PE-SA. It is a duty every one owes to himself. Try a 25 cent sample bottle. If you suffer from indigestion, heart burn or sick headache, don't fail to try it. One Dose will relieve you immediately, and one bottle will cure any ordinary case.

"Hub" Cough Cure. The favorite Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed for years by a Boston druggist, ONE DOSE will cure any ordinary cough. I act almost magically. Ask Prentice & Evenson for a 50 cent bottle of "Hub" Cough Cure. It acts so quickly as to astonish you.
